

NETWORK OF INNOVATORS

The skill-sharing network for government & civic innovators worldwide

GET STARTED

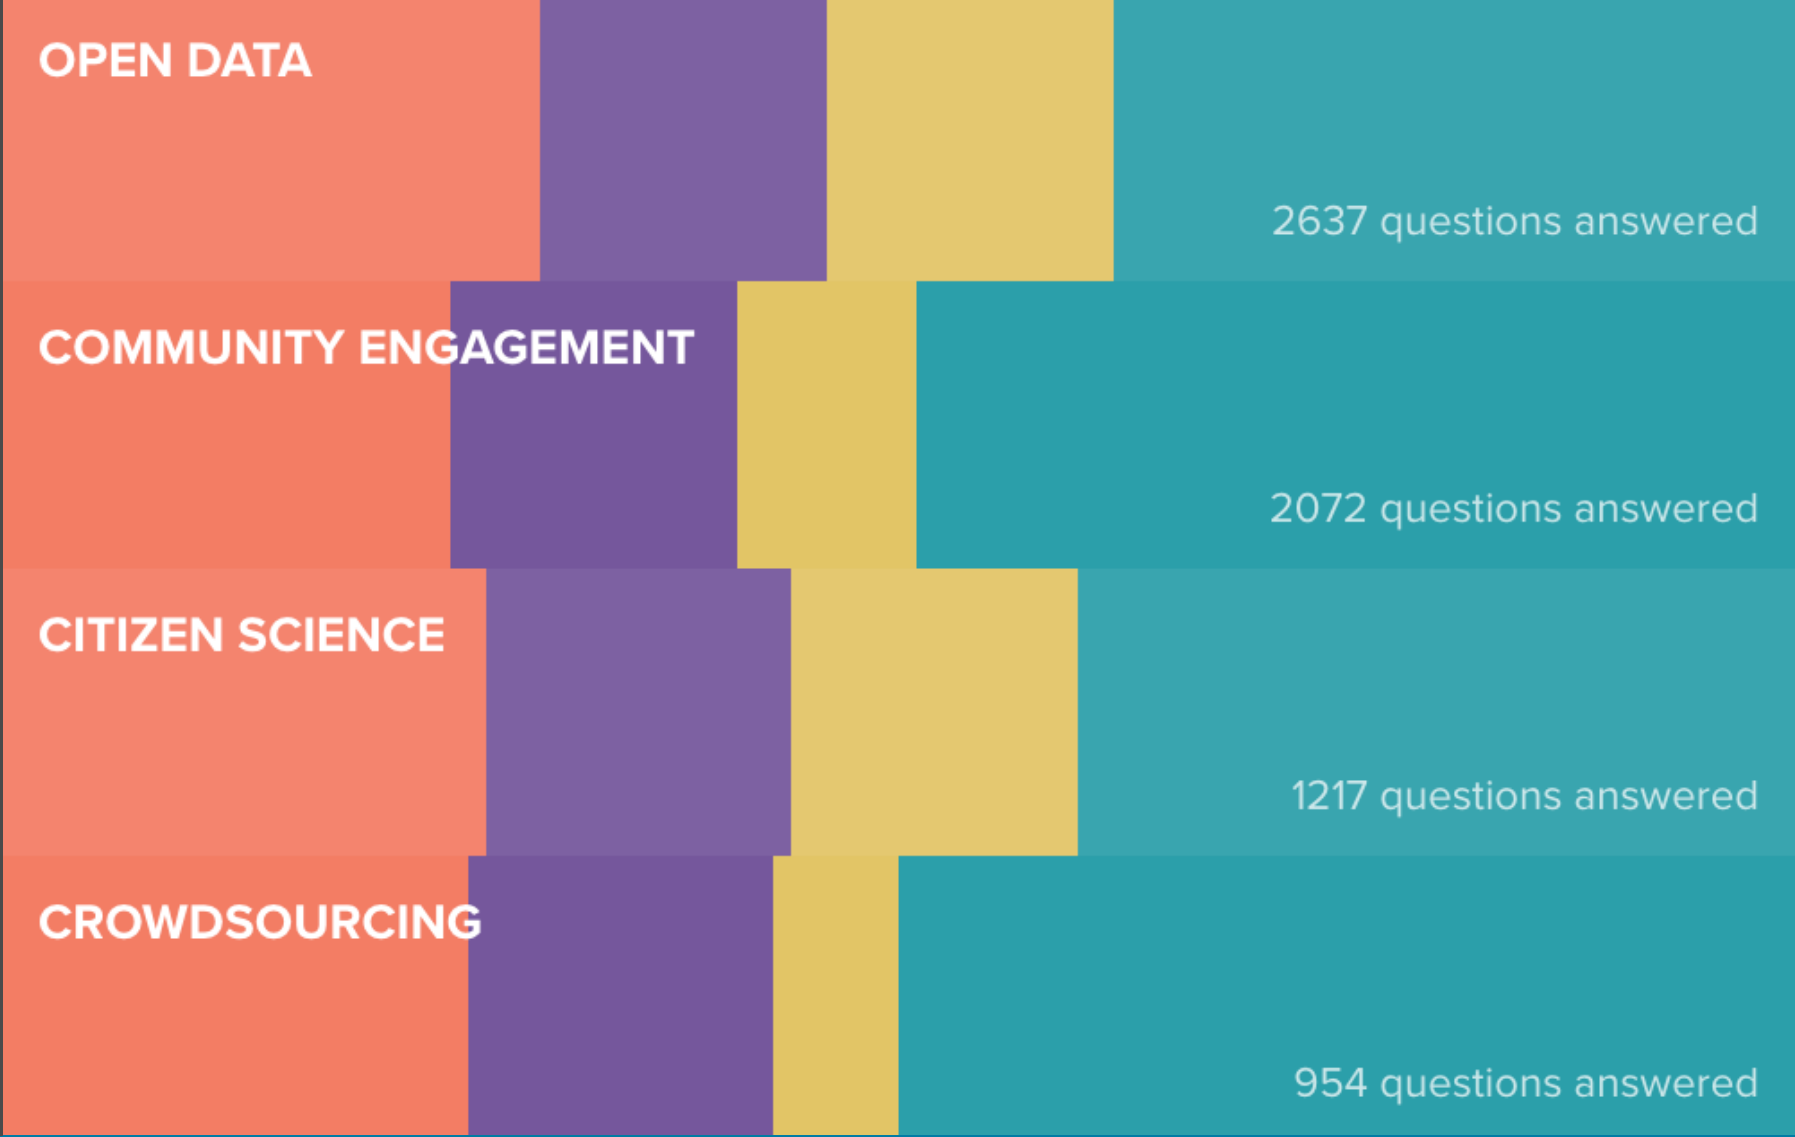

Answer questions about what you know and can share with others. Telling us about your innovation skills enables you to get matched to those with complementary expertise.

Find innovators who know what you don't and who want to learn what you can share.

Visualize your knowledge of innovative problem solving practices to see what you know, compare to others, and see the skillset of a 21st century innovator.

The Problem With Evidence-Based Policies

Ricardo Hausmann at Project Syndicate: “Many organizations, from government agencies to philanthropic institutions and aid organizations, now require that programs...
